TOWSON, Md. – Six-time NCAA champion Justine Schluntz of the University of Arizona and All-American Chelsea Hoff of the University of Wisconsin La Crosse lead the 2010 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® Women's At-Large Teams, as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Schluntz and Hoff, who are both swimmers, were named as the Academic All-America® of the Year Award winners in the University and College Divisions, respectively.

The Women's At-Large program for Academic All-America® includes the sports of bowling, crew, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, skiing, tennis and water polo.

A Rhodes Scholar who has earned 16 All-American honors in her career for the Wildcats, Schluntz is a graduate student who has a 4.00 G.P.A. while studying Fluid Dynamics. Last year, she graduated from Arizona with her B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering and a perfect 4.00 G.P.A. A summa cum laude graduate, she was honored as the Pacific-10 Conference Scholar-Athlete of the Year for women's swimming. A native of Albuquerque, N.M., Schluntz is a finalist for the Walter Byers Scholarship.

A member of the Wildcats' record-setting 200-free and 400-medley relay teams, she is part of two relay teams that own NCAA and American records. The Wildcats set the 200-free relay record in 2009 with a time of 1:26.20 while the 400-medley relay team owns the record with a time of 3:28.31.

Schluntz has helped Arizona win national titles in the 200-free relay and 400-medley relay the last two seasons. As a sophomore, she was a member of the Wildcats' first-ever NCAA championship team. She contributed to the Wildcats' title by swimming on the 800-free relay team which finished first. She also helped the Wildcats win the Pac-10 title in 2008.

In 2010, Schluntz helped Arizona finish fourth at the NCAA Championship Meet. A three-time Pac-10 All-Academic team member, she will study fluid dynamics next year at Oxford.

Honored as a member of the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® Women's At-Large College Division first team for the second straight year, Hoff earned six NCAA Division III All-American honors as a senior. An ESS-Fitness and Pre-Physical Therapy major with a 4.00 G.P.A., she finished her career with 18 Division III All-America honors, including seven individual awards.

Named as the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Swimmer of the Meet for three consecutive years, she won three individual titles and was part of three WIAC-winning relay teams at the 2010 WIAC Championship Meet. A native of Middletown, Wis., she won nine individual WIAC titles and was part of 11 championship relay teams in her career. The NCAA Division III runner-up in the 100-backstroke as a senior, she also finished fifth in the 50-free and the 100-free.

The owner of eight school records, she holds three individual WIAC records and swam on four WIAC record-setting relay teams. Named as WIAC Swimmer of the Week five times in her career, she led the Eagles to three conference titles. She was named as the WIAC Scholar-Athlete Award winner as a senior.

Schluntz is one of three members of Arizona's nationally-recognized swimming program who was named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® Women's At-Large University Division first team. She was joined on the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® Women's At-Large University Division first team by two of her teammates, seniors Ana Agy and Annie Chandler.
